

A is for Arid

Arid means dry and that's exactly what the shrub-steppe is in the summer. With temperatures reaching over one-degree Fahrenheit you'd think the plants and animals would die, but they have made adaptations to the heat. It all changes in the winter though, the temperatures reach freezing which is exactly opposite of arid.